

"Hello, I'm Rina Vaisman. I'm not a doctor, I'm a healer. A healer is a person who can unit together human mind, soul and body influencing not only on symptoms but on causes of ailments occurrences. Theme of health improvement wasn't new for me because on 4th year of the Institute I ended up on a wheel-chair and doctors said that I would never walk. But I stood up and walked. I didn't become a dancer because of an injury, though I'm a choreographer by profession. After the Institute I worked as a fitness trainer, set up my own dance class where I joined psychological influence and dance. After it there were a lot of psychological courses and trainings, spiritual practices and searches. In 2007 I started to hold a personal growth trainings, energetic practices and consulted as a psychologist. In 2010 I became interested in a theme of a Slavic heritage and passed 1 course of it. I live and work already for 1 year in St. Petersburg, hold master-classes of self-massage, massage for children, energetic and body practice. Welcome to my class! Uniting influence on body (organs massage, homeopathy, cleaning), mind (work with subconscious mind, displacement of old and implementation of new imprints), soul (reiki, energetic practices, mantras and prayers) we obtain amazing results!"
